A note from our founders..

“As female founders, we have often experienced the absence of a dedicated space to build meaningful connections and foster deep conversations with other women in business. While community platforms and industry-specific retreats do exist, we noticed a significant gap in a space that provides a transformative, in-person environment that brings together female entrepreneurs and allows for authenticity & vulnerability.

Engaging in conversation and building connections are essential for growth as business owners, and as women, we deeply value community and inclusivity.

The entrepreneurial landscape can often feel isolating, and interactions with our peers can sometimes lead to feelings of misunderstanding and frustration.

By creating an environment where like-minded women can come together, we open up space for authentic conversations and genuine relationships that not only nurtures personal growth but also empowers us all to thrive in our entrepreneurial journeys.”

A Journey To A Better You Awaits..

At Destination Her, we are dedicated to empowering aspiring and established female entrepreneurs through transformative retreats & experiences.

Through careful and considerate planning our retreats have been designed to encourage a deeper level of conversation between women in business, creating a safe space for vulnerability & openness. A space to house raw & real discussion, allowing for the opportunity to receive true guidance & personal development.

Destination Her is a roadmap to bettering ourselves as businesses owners, equipping women with the necessary tools & confidence to create change where it is needed and inspiring the necessary shifts in mindset we need in order to take action towards our goals.

Each retreat is a celebration of ambition and a testament to the journey we each undertake to become the best versions of ourselves as women in business. Together, we can create lasting connections and create an environment where every woman can thrive.

'Her journey starts here'

Emma Donbavand

Founder of Contour Content, Emma is a successful female founder who is paving the way in the creative industry, having just opened her second content studio within 8 months of her first. Within her first year of business, Emma has established working relationships with leading fashion brands such as Pretty Little Thing, BooHoo, In The Style & JD Sports. Emma brings a unique touch to Destination Her through her attention to detail and precision planning. Still developing her own brand, Emma is also on a journey to better herself. This has ignited a passion in Emma to create Destination Her, aiming to unite other women in business and pave the way for current and aspiring female founders.

Alannis Barnes

With over 10 years combined experience in brand strategy, design and content creation, Alannis (founder of The Brandology Lab) is your go-to expert for all things brand. Having worked with hundreds of female founders over the last few years, Alannis has helped scale brands from just an idea, to obsession worthy business's with cult like followings. Alannis's passion for helping brands succeed makes her the perfect asset to Destination Her. Having faced her own struggles as a female entrepreneur, Alannis is on a continuous journey of personal development and hopes that by creating a safe space for women to have deep discussion about the realities of entrepreneurship, it will inspire others to do the same.

Mariese Kirkham

Mariese Kirkham is an expert in the subconscious mind and is on a mission to change the world one mind at a time. Through her own transformative life experiences — becoming a mother at 16, surviving an abusive relationship, homelessness, and failed businesses — Mariese discovered the importance of self-development and deep inner healing for personal growth. Mariese is now dedicated to helping women reprogram their subconscious minds and shift to new energetic signatures so they can take control of every aspect of their lives, enabling freedom, joy, and abundance in all areas. Mariese will be guiding our attendees to improve themselves and their businesses through transformative in-person sessions.

pHnutrition

Since starting their fitness journey in 2019, Chelly & Chrissy have always found joy in prepping and eating healthy high-protein protein balanced meals. pHnutrition caters to athletes, sports teams busy professionals and gym goers who realise the importance of nutrition in their success. With a mission to motivate women to become their best selves and nourish their bodies with real food, we couldn't think of a better pair of girls to join us on our first retreat! Chelly & Chrissy will be providing the group with freshly prepared, whole-food meals throughout the duration of your stay.
